

THE CONFERENCE VENUE

Schwetzingen Castle first was mentioned in 14th century as mediaeval moated castle. In the 16th century it was a hunting seat and than about 200 years later the summer residence of the Electors Palatine Karl III Philipp and Karl Theodor.

Karl Theodor was a promoter of science and arts and the appearance of Schwetzingen castle is his merit. He enlarged the garden and arranged fountains, a mosque, pavilions, temple and figures. That garden itself is divided into two parts: a french formal garden with strictly geometrical shapes and the more natural english garden.

After a major restoration effort between 1976 and 1991, several of the electoral and ducal apartments are back in their previous state.

Today, the castle is world famous for its fantastic garden and the unique ensemble of buildings ranging from gothics to roccoco.
